TASER Conducted Electrical Weapons (CEW's) are solely manufactured by AXON Enterprise, Inc. TASER CEW's are the only systems currently approved for use pursuant to existing Rialto Police Department policy and current training standards. The devices contain technological advancements including extended battery life, updated measurement and calibration of electrical charge energy pulses, and advanced data recording capabilities in three components, including operator actions, electrical output logs, and engineering maintenance logs. Additionally, the TASER CEW is small enough to be worn on an officer's duty belt, and is readily accessible when needed. TASER CEW's are considered "industry standard" in the Law Enforcement community.
