June 11, 2018,

I am pleased to announce that our acquisition of Kratos Public Safety & Security (Kratos PSS or KPSS) has been successfully completed and KPSS is now officially part of Securitas Electronic Security, Inc. (SES), part of the Securitas family of businesses.

Securitas AB is approximately a $10B leading global commercial security services provider, headquartered in Stockholm, Sweden, and founded in 1934. Securitas is an ideal strategic fit for KPSS, providing the scale, stability, focus and resources necessary to grow, innovate and reach even higher levels of customer satisfaction and performance in the years to come. In North America, Securitas is represented by six protective services: Manned Guarding, Mobile Guarding, Remote Guarding, Fire & Safety, Corporate Risk Management (aka Pinkerton), and Electronic Security (aka SES). By combining the SES and KPSS portfolio of electronic security services and Securitas' full portfolio of protective services, we solidify our position as the security industry's leader in North America.

Like Kratos PSS, SES is one of the top system integrators and alarm service providers and has received recognition from the security industry and our customers alike for the quality of our people, service and security solutions. As a full service security provider, SES operates two UL, Five Diamond monitoring centers; state-of-the-art Engineering Centers of Excellence; coast-to-coast field operations; the industry's leading online customer portal SecureStat; and regional offices in the U.S., Canada and Mexico. KPSS customers now have access to the combined company's robust offerings, expanded capabilities and enhanced technical competencies.

We are excited to welcome KPSS and its talented and experienced associates to the SES family. Although the KPSS name will transition over time, you will continue to receive the same outstanding customer service you have come to expect from Kratos. For the time being, there will be no changes in the way you interact with KPSS on a daily basis. Continue to use the same contact information for account management, sales, installation, service, alarm monitoring and billing.

As a valued customer, we will continue to provide ongoing communication as we bring together these two great companies under the SES brand. Please refer to the included "KPSS Customer Things to Know - Day 1" communication for additional information. Feel free to contact your account executive with any questions, or you may also reach SES at 1-855-331-0359 or at SecuritasES@securitases.com

You have my personal guarantee SES is committed to a smooth transition for all customers. Thank you for your business and we look forward to serving you in the years to come.

Best Regards,

Tony Byerly

Regulatory authorities have approved Securitas' acquisition of the division Kratos Public Safety and Security from Kratos Defense & Security Solutions, Inc. (NASDAQ:KTOS).

As disclosed on February 28, Securitas has agreed to acquire Kratos Public Safety and Security (KPSS), a top 10 system integrator in the United States. The purchase price is approximately MSEK 600 (MUSD 69) on a cash and debt-free basis.
